Teachers' handbook on peace and security. Ottawa, c1990. 28cm. Loose-leaf. In binder, 30cm.

"While not a textbook, the Handbook is more appropriately described as a smorgasbord of strategies, readings, activities and other resources which can be used as the teacher sees fit in a way that best serves his or her classroom style and programme. The Handbook has been written with a junior high school class in mind.... The Handbook seeks to present a foundation of knowledge to students which will help them to make sense of the flow of information on international peace and security issues to which they have ready access. The Handbook stresses concepts, and is organized into three broad concepts: foreign policy, security, and international conflict. Each of these is supported by lessons and strategies for the teacher's use, and readings and resources for both student and teacher."—Page iii.

Précis de l'enseignant et de l'enseignante sur la paix et la sécurité.

Ottawa, c1991. 28cm. Feuilles mobiles. Dans un autorelieur, 30cm.

«Le Précis n'est pas un livre de classe; la meilleure façon de le décrire consiste à dire que c'est un recueil de stratégies, de lectures, d'activités et d'autres ressources que l'enseignant ou l'enseignante peut utiliser à sa guise, en fonction du style et du programme de sa classe. Les auteurs ont rédigé le Précis à l'intention des élèves des huitième, neuvième et dixième années. [...] Le Précis a pour objet de présenter aux élèves un fond de connaissances qui les aidera à comprendre la multitude d'informations sur la paix et la sécurité internationales auxquelles ils ont facilement accès. Il met l'accent sur des concepts, trois pour être plus précis: la politique étrangère, la sécurité, et les conflits internationaux. Dans chaque cas, il présente en parallèle des leçons et des stratégies à l'usage de l'enseignant, ainsi que des lectures et des ressources tant pour l'élève que pour l'enseignant.»—Page iii.

Report No. 3.—Sentencing patterns in cases of sexual assault, by Julian V. Roberts, 1990. c1991. 108p. Graphs, references, tables.

"This report addresses three principal questions in the area: What kinds of sentences are imposed? How do these sentences compare with dispositions for other crimes of violence? How much sentencing variation exists in Canada for sexual assault offences? The report draws upon several different databases to present a picture of recent sentencing patterns for the offences of sexual assault."—Preface.

Report No. 4.—An analysis of national statistics, by Julian V. Roberts, 1990. c1991. 78p. Graphs, references, tables.

"This report presents national statistics relating to sexual assault in Canada. Specifically, this study examines the incidence of reports of sexual assault; the unfounded rate (i.e., the percentage of reports declared to be without foundation); the incidence of actual offences; and the rate of actual offences that result in laying a charge against a suspect. The data are all derived from the Uniform Crime Reporting (UCR) database administered by the Canadian Centre for Justice Statistics (part of Statistics Canada). They focus on the period of 1976 to 1988, but particularly the six years since the passage of Bill C-127 (1983-1988). As well, this report presents comparative statistics for other offences against the person."—Preface.

Rapport n° 3.—Modèles de détermination de la peine dans les affaires d'agression sexuelle, par Julian V. Roberts, 1990. c1991. 120p. Graphiques, références, tableaux.

«Le présent rapport tente de répondre aux trois questions suivantes: Quel genre de peines impose-t-on? Comment ces peines se comparent-elles aux dispositions des autres crimes violents? Dans quelle mesure impose-t-on des peines différentes pour les délits d'agression sexuelle dans les diverses régions du Canada? Le présent rapport se fonde sur différentes bases de données pour dresser un tableau des modèles récents de détermination de la peine dans les affaires d'agression sexuelle.»—Préface.

«Ce rapport présente les statistiques nationales sur l'agression sexuelle au Canada. Plus précisément, il examine les données sur les plaintes d'agression sexuelle, le taux de plaintes non fondées (c'est-à-dire, le pourcentage des plaintes déclarées être sans fondement), l'incidence des infractions réelles et le taux d'infractions réelles qui aboutissent à la mise en accusation d'un suspect. Toutes les données proviennent de la base de données du Système de déclaration uniforme de la criminalité (DUC) administrée par le Centre canadien de la statistique juridique (de Statistique Canada). Elles portent sur la période allant de 1976 à 1988, mais plus particulièrement sur les six années qui se sont écoulées depuis l'adoption du projet de loi C-127 (1983-1988). Ce rapport présente, en outre, des statistiques comparatives sur les autres infractions contre la personne.»—Préface.

«Le but de l'évaluation que nous présentons ici était de préciser les changements apportés dans les faits depuis les modifications de 1983. Jusqu'à maintenant nous avons souligné ici quelques-unes des préoccupations et des forces historiques qui ont poussé le législateur à modifier les dispositions de la loi canadienne sur le viol, ainsi que les buts et les espoirs qui y sont associés. Le présent document a aussi décrit les programmes de recherche mis sur pied pour évaluer l'impact de cette initiative législative importante en ainsi que de quelques-uns des défis méthodologiques relatifs au projet de recherche.»—Page 28.

«Ce rapport est le troisième d'une série portant sur les résultats de l'Enquête nationale sur l'alcool et les autres drogues au Canada (1989). Il met l'accent sur l'usage d'alcool et d'autres drogues par les adolescents et les jeunes adultes de 15 à 24 ans ainsi que sur les comportements connexes et les conséquences de cette consommation. L'enquête dont les résultats sont décrits ici a été menée par Statistique Canada au nom de Santé et Bien-être social Canada en mars 1989.»—Préface.

- 1991-5.—Étude sur la mise en liberté: sondage auprès des femmes purgeant une peine d'une durée de plus de deux ans dans la collectivité, par Margaret Shaw et al. 1992. 30p. Références, tableaux.

«A la demande du Groupe d'étude sur les femmes purgeant une peine d'une durée de plus de deux ans, deux sondages ont été menés auprès de femmes purgeant leur peine dans la collectivité. Les femmes autochtones font l'objet d'un rapport distinct; toutes les femmes non autochtones sous responsabilité fédérale ont été contactées aux fins de ce sondage. Dans notre rapport, nous nous intéressons à la manière dont les femmes qui ont participé à l'étude ont vécu, dans la pratique, la planification de leur libération, la semi-liberté, la libération conditionnelle totale et la liberté surveillée, et à la mesure dans laquelle la surveillance et les mesures courantes prises répondaient à leurs besoins.»—Rapport sommaire.

"This report begins with an overview of smoking behaviour in Canada. This is followed by a summary of legislation affecting smoking in Canadian public places and workplaces, and a review of research on reactions to "no smoking" policies. The core of the report is a detailed analysis of data collected in the 1990 Alberta Survey, a random sample public opinion survey of 1245 adult residents of the province.... The report concludes by comparing the importance which smokers attach to different reasons for (possibly) quitting smoking."—Introduction.
